Federal Court Upholds Small Business Innovation

ODORZX Wins Patent Dispute

AUSTIN, TX – ODORZX, Inc., a leader in eco-friendly odor-removal solutions, today announced that the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas has ruled in its favor in a patent dispute with NuVinAir®, LLC.

Judge Alan D Albright found ODORZX had not infringed in the alleged patent claims.

“This ruling protects our technology, built on years of independent research, rigorous field testing, and direct feedback from our clients,” said a spokesperson for ODORZX.

With the legal matter resolved, ODORZX has reaffirmed its focus on serving customers. “We’re returning our full energy to working feverishly for our clients, delivering the results they rely on us for every day.”

ODORZX credits its legal victory to the expert representation of:

- John Bustamante, Esq. – Member, Grable Martin, PLLC
- Pat Richter, Esq. – Partner, Rigby Slack Lawrence Pepper + Comerford PLLC

Their advocacy was instrumental in securing justice and protecting innovation.
